Look, Paper End Suit on JFK Book

CHICAGO, Feb. 3 (UPI) Look magazine and William Manchester and the Chicago Daily News today jointly announced termination of a suit by Look and Manchester in U.S. District Court here.

The suit had asked the Federal court to enjoin the Daily News from prematurely publishing material from the Look installments of William Manchester's book, "The Death of a President."

Roy Fisher, editor of the Chicago Daily News, said, "We regret the entire incident which arose from our misunderstanding. The Daily News went to press before our editors appreciated that Look's release date was 6 p.m. Monday.

"In keeping with customary journalistic traditions and standards and the copyright law, we will respect Look's release dates and use restrictions as to future installments from this fascinating book."

A suit against the New York World Journal Tribune is still pending.
